Description of major:

Music majors would study the theoretical, creative, practical and historical aspects of music. Music majors can specialize in performance, theory, composition or education. Some go on to teach and there are limited openings in professional performance, music industry and sales, music library science, music therapy, music criticism, church music, music editing for television and radio, and college teaching.

Regardless of your career choice, increase your marketability to employers through internships, related work experience, good grades, and involvement in college activities. Visit the Career Center at your campus to research this field. Talk to people employed in these occupations and meet with an Academic Advisor to develop an academic plan for this major.
